THE NEED IS GREAT!

Please consider volunteering as a Reader or Eucharistic Minister. Training will be provided. Several of our current ministers have had to step back from ministry for health reasons or because they are moving away. Couples can be scheduled for the same mass, one as a reader, one as a Eucharistic Minister. Talk to Father, Mary Haloski, or Martha in the Parish office to learn more. If you served in ministry a while back, but quit, maybe it's time you returned.

The mission of St. Thomas the Apostle Catholic School, in union with our parish, is to form disciples of Jesus Christ who show reverence for the Eucharist, embody virtuous behavior, live out Gospel values, and pursue academic excellence.

Enjoy a great day of networking, prayer and fellowship as we discuss new ways to serve families as they navigate the complexities of mental health. Tickets are on sale now at ministrydays.com.

The Pastor's Voice

Is the Catholic Church Truly Holy? Countering Misconceptions About Exclusivity

A frequent criticism is that the Church's claim to holiness implies exclusivity, dismissing other faiths. The Church teaches that it possesses the fullness of truth through Christ, but it also acknowledges the goodness in other religions (CCC 843). Vatican II's document Lumen Gentium affirms that those outside the Church can attain salvation through God's grace. This openness counters the misconception of arrogance or elitism. The Church's holiness lies in its mission to share Christ's truth universally, not to exclude others. Its dialogue with other faiths, as seen in ecumenical and interreligious efforts, reflects this commitment. Critics sometimes misinterpret the Church's confidence in its divine mandate as intolerance. However, its outreach to the marginalized and its promotion of human dignity show a broader vision. The Church's holiness is inclusive, inviting all to encounter Christ. This balance of conviction and openness defines its sanctifying role.

* Eschatology is the study of the eschaton, of the last things. It deals with God's eternity and man's final relationship with God. And so, it pertains to questions concerning heaven, hell, purgatory, the particular and final judgments, the resurrection of the body, and the new heavens and the new earth.
